“Be Devout”

Do not believe everything you hear.

Do not desire everything you see.

Do not proceed to do everything you are able to.

*Do not proclaim everything you know,
but only that which should be proclaimed.*

That which you do not know, do not affirm or deny;

*Best of all - inquire;
then will thou be discreet.*

- Ilarion Pobirokhin

Selkirk College’s Castlegar Campus rests at the confluence of the Kootenay and Columbia rivers on land that played an important role in the history of the Doukhobor people who live in this region.

The Doukhobor psalm “Be Devout” contains a philosophy in alignment with Selkirk College. The excerpt “Best of All - Inquire” was chosen as our motto that has been used for over 50 years. Above is a small piece of this meaningful psalm.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Selkirk College 2020 Graduates!

Congratulations to all of you on your achievements as the Class of 2020 at Selkirk College! I celebrate and honour you, for the hard work, perseverance and commitment you have demonstrated by obtaining a credential at Selkirk College. You have accomplished so much despite dramatic changes taking place in our communities and in society, and in spite of changes that Selkirk College made to your final months of study during the COVID-19 global pandemic.

In that spirit, we are celebrating your accomplishment in a different way this Spring; in a way none of us at the College imagined nor expected. It is so important for you to know that your achievement at Selkirk College is not diminished in any way by the extraordinary circumstances and challenges in our world. Indeed, while your education has provided you with the skills, knowledge and confidence to be successful, your education provides all of us with a deeper sense of how resilient, adaptable, patient and resolved Selkirk College students are! It has been immensely humbling and I am grateful to you.

At no period of our history has there been a more critical time to be learning and investing in your education. Your achievement was supported and cheered on by a community of instructors, support staff, friends and family who I am personally grateful to as well, and who I am certain all join me in celebrating your achievements.

When we look back on the year 2020, it will be vital to take strength from the lessons we have all learned together. The challenges we face as individuals and as a civil and caring society into the future will need the full range of your talents, ideas, skills and desire to make a difference. I am confident that all of you will have an impact in so many different ways and will continue to create a remarkable future. And I welcome you today in to the Selkirk College Alumni community!

On behalf of the faculty and staff at Selkirk College, wishing you successful days ahead!

Best of all-inquire!

Angus Graeme,
President

The Indigenous Services staff, Elders and Nation knowledge-keepers congratulate your success in graduating this year. The energy and spirit to complete your studies is remarkable at this unique time in history.

We are humbled to have supported your educational path and proud of your accomplishments.

You are strong, resilient and can do great things.

Thank you límlímtx<sup>w</sup> (nsyilxcən) hu sukiꞑ qukni (Ktunaxa)

Ekosi (Cree) Miigwetch (Annishnaabe) Marsee (Michif)

Sechanalyagh (Tsilqhot'in)

For those graduating this year from Elder, Donna Wright

My Father gives me Nehiyawok (Cree) and Métis mix breed/half breed and my Mother gives me Norwegian ancestry.

I am one of three Elders of the Selkirk College Elders' program. I am honoured and humbled to have this opportunity to share some thoughts to students graduating and to all the people at the college who supported them: Staff, Faculty, Counsellors, Administrators, all the Maintenance Personnel and the Board of Governors.

I also want to recognize all the parents, brothers and sisters, cousins, spouses and children who gave their patience and support to students. The students graduating have demonstrated courage, adaptability and commitment under unprecedented circumstances - the pandemic. Who would have thought or even imagined.

I would like to leave you with this thought that the pandemic has shown - It takes a community.

Well done to students and community.

In Kind Spirit, Donna

I am delighted and honoured to be one of three Elders at Selkirk College.

My father is Cree (Nehiyawewin) from the Qu'Appelle valley in Southern Saskatchewan, and my mother is Swedish, born in Yellowgrass, Saskatchewan. I too am of mixed blood.

I am writing this today to recognize your achievement. It is your own commitment, dedication and passion which has brought you to this time. Well done. Be safe, be kind to yourself and to others, and remember to follow your dreams. In closing I would like to share, "The most beautiful thing you can ever wear is your confidence."

My hands are raised to you.

All my relations, Elder Muhri (Iskwe) Kencayd

Congratulations Grads!!

Your time as a student with Selkirk College has come to fruition as you move on to the next stages of your life. Now you will have opportunities to pursue your dreams and apply all the training and education you have all received. These opportunities will have their challenges to be sure, but you have already demonstrated your ability to face challenge over the past years to complete your courses. Your Ancestors are proud of you!

I wish you all well as you continue to move forward to your successes in life. It has truly been an honour and a privilege to serve you through the Indigenous Services Elder Program throughout your time at the College.

Thank you and congratulations again to each and every one of you!

All my relations, Gerry Rempel

I wish you congratulations and express my honour to all students who have successfully completed their programs this year. I support and encourage a prosperous future to all.

"If you have a dream, you have it in you to succeed!"

Ktunaxa Elder Anne Jimmie

To the Selkirk College graduates of 2020, on behalf of the Indigenous community of the Boundary, I wish to congratulate you all on your graduation. Your spirit to keep on, keeping on, has shown through with success, and I wish you all the best that life can offer in whatever your future folds for you.

All my relations, Grand Forks Métis Elder Joanie Holmes

2020 VALEDICTORIANS

Kim Pham, School of Business

Arriving to the West Kootenay from bustling Ho Chi Minh City in December 2017, Kim Pham was stung by the winter weather, grappled with culture shock and was surprised by the serene pace of life in Castlegar. A graduate of the Post-Graduate Business Management Diploma Program, she leaves having made Selkirk College history.

“It is such an honour to be the first international student recognized as the valedictorian. I am also proud to be a School of Business student and represent my classmates. I would not have achieved this without the support system that I have built since coming here. I am a completely different person than when I came to Selkirk College, everything I have learned has created a more positive relationship with my family and the people back home in Vietnam.”

Shaking off her initial apprehension by jumping into student life was a key to success. She started with the Selkirk College Students’ Union and from there began to take on opportunities in all areas of the college. Over the last two years, the straight-A student has been part of the Student Ambassador team, a Cultural Assistant for Selkirk International, the student representative on the Selkirk College Education Council and Board of Governors, the Business Engagement Assistant for the School of Business and was a consistent participant in most on-campus events.

“The Class of 2020 worked really hard to get to graduation, there have been ups and downs, but finally we made it. We deserve this day because together we are making a difference in the community and building a remarkable future for ourselves.”

Emily Kantymir, Bachelor of Science in Nursing

The rigours of an intensive four-year degree program presents plenty of challenges, but a supportive environment eased Emily Kantymir’s anxiety level. Taking a break from formal education for almost two decades, the mom of an eight-year-old son returned to post-secondary and graduated as a straight-A student who is a leader amongst peers.

“We are so lucky at Selkirk College. We get to know our instructors and develop these amazing working relationships with them. The support I have received over the last four years has been unreal.”

The Class of 2020 embarks on new challenges amidst one of the most difficult periods in recent history, but this year’s valedictorian says fear is not something that should inhibit those ready to make a difference in the world.

“The entire graduating class at Selkirk College will be continuing to develop our skills to adapt to the changing situation we find ourselves in. Even though it is challenging, it will strengthen our abilities and allow us to be part of helping the recovery. I just want people to believe in themselves. I told myself for so many years that I couldn’t do something like this. You can’t force it, but when you have belief in yourself it is so valuable. If you want something bad enough, you can attain it.”
